Capital Credits Escheatment

PATRICK DOLAN GVEA

What is Escheatment and why do it?

- Escheatment is transferring ownership from abandoned co-op member's equity to the co-op permanent equity.
- Cleans up old accounts
 - GVEA has a 25 year retirement cycle (last normal retirement was 1992)
 - For Escheatment, we chose 1988 and earlier (30 years & older)

Legality

- Federal 1995 Federal Uniform Unclaimed Property Act, retired capital credits are presumed abandoned if unclaimed by the owner within a period between one and seven years.
- State Alaska Statue (next slide)

Alaska Statute Sec. 34.45.200

(e) A distribution of net margins by a cooperative incorporated under AS 10.25 is presumed abandoned if the distribution remains unclaimed by the owner for more than one year after the date authorized for the distribution.

Cooperative Policy and GVEA's Scope

- Look at your own Bylaws and Policy for CC escheatment
 - GVEA policy: presumed abandoned after 1 year if unclaimed
 - May be reclaimed later
 - GVEA's Policy 5.3 excerpt:
- M. Unclaimed capital credits (returned and un-cashed checks) are abandoned if the member has not made claim to them within one year, provided GVEA has complied with the notice provisions in AS 34.45.200. Capital credits considered abandoned may be claimed upon presentation of documentation and proof to substantiate their claim to them.
